- A detailed treatment and synopsis for a feature film
- Four key scenes from feature film script

Recommended:

- Students should come prepared with ideas that would suit both their short film script and feature length projects.

Fee: 950€ inclusive of taxes

Participants cater for their own travel and lodging.

On completion of the workshop, participants will be provided with a certificate of attendance.

Dates and location:

July the 5th to July the 16th at the school
 Monday to Friday from 9.30 to 18.00,
 Break for Bastille day.

Syllabus:

- Part One of this course will focus on students grasping the principles of dynamic short film writing and the art of purely visual expression.

Lectures will cement an understanding of the dramatic implications of short form stories.

Afternoon workshops will be dedicated to students learning in practice, through round table discussion of their own ideas and in some cases, readings to cement an understanding of what works and does not work.

- Part Two will cover the feature film script. Students will learn the art of dramatic construction, dialogue, character, plot and pacing in their theoretical component.

Afternoon workshops will include readings of scenes and treatments for feedback, written exercises and pitching sessions to help students form a definitive sense of their feature screenplay. Students will have their final scenes read or acted aloud in a public forum.
